SUSTAINABLE NORTHWEST WOOD is the bridge between responsible sourcing, beautiful local wood products and your building project.

PLACE Southwestern Oregon, along the South Umpqua River is home to the Cow Creek Band of the Umpqua Tribe of Indians and where we source some of our Douglas fir lumber.

PURPOSE Douglas fir is ideal for structural & dimensional lumber, siding, trim, butcher block countertops, desktops, paneling, flooring, and more. This softwood has a fine grain, is easy to work with and it the quintessential Northwest species.

PEOPLE The Cow Creek Umpqua people have a deep connection with the land, the water, and the natural world around them. They are stewarding their forests in a holistic way, for the benefit of their Tribal members, their surrounding communities, and the future generations. We are honored to support their work.

AVAILABILITY Clear Vertical Grain, Clear Mixed Grain. 1x4, 1x6, 2x rough sawn lumber, CVG Flooring, butcher block countertops and more. Ask for details.

Our team of wood enthusiasts can help you find the right wood products for the application, no matter the size or scale of your project. Call us or stop by our showroom in SE Portland.

Forest Stewardship Council® Certified since 2008. FSC available -ask for it!
